FOR COORDINATED PULL

Results are always stronger when achieved by coordinated and organized efforts. Several factors are necessary for success in a project, this is an important one.

The local populace possesses some of these necessities including willingness to work and willingness to give. But our local welfare movement lacks coordination under a head leadership.

Our program stems from independent action of religious and civic groups; consequently, coverage is spotted and case diagnosis is often incorrect. Apparent need for a permanent welfare shelter often has been operated by a full time worker.

"Need" and "Want" are with us all the time regardless of the season, and past experience has shown us that these responsibilities do not fall on the state or the county but on the individual.

We have usually solved our own problem in crises caused by crop failures, although sometimes with greater confusion, duplication and unfavorable publicity than might be necessary.

In our section of economic ups and downs, especially the gross unemployment periods is a permanent story in the history and in the future pattern. We should prepare for these times now and have a smoothly running body in command of facts and figures of the local scene ready to go into operation without delay and fanfare.

A planned solution for a coordinated welfare program has been suggested by a city commissioner.

He advises that the Salvation Army be contacted and asked to come in and set up a permanent shelter office which would have the backing of all civic and religious bodies having welfare branches.

Choice of the Salvation Army, he explains, is advisable due to the organization's lack of religious and benefit limits. Most county and state welfare agencies confine their work to cases which fit into residential or condition classifications. The Salvation Army does not.

As first step in obtaining such a program the mayor should call a meeting of organization and religious groups heads to discuss their consent and declaration of support. Then Salvation Army officials should be contacted.

This is how the proposed office would operate. A trained worker would make studies and investigations of needy cases to determine extent of the need and solution of the need. Some cases require financial assistance, while other can be solved through guidance, placement and information. This professional diagnosis service would properly place each case in a category. Various welfare branches of local organizations would be contacted and directed in the part of the program they are best qualified to perform.

Another valuable function of the shelter would be the dispersion of welfare information. How many among the informed populace know the various functions of different welfare agencies and when and where to reach the workers? The answer is very few. This central office would have all this information.

Major goal of the project, however, would be to knit into one concerted effort a standing and organized welfare program for the area.

How often does a club or church cite a needy case to its membership? Immediately the group goes to the rescue with some sort of independent action. In other words, our community has been operating on the principle of not letting the right hand know what the left one is doing. The spotted coverage has caused needless duplications and tragic omissions.

men football players. Many of the senior boys received letters, stripes and gold footballs. With the seniors the other lettermen received letters, stripes and some sweaters. (which haven't arrived yet) There are quite a few seniors leaving this year, therefore the team will need lots of new players for next year. All you lads interested in football—here's your chance!

Demolay
In a recent meeting of the local chapter of Demolay, the plans were made for the annual Demolay dance. More information will be given later. It was decided there will be a banquet at the next meeting for all Demolays and their dates. A regular business meeting followed.

F. H. A.
The Future Homemakers are making plans to attend the State Fair in Tampa. Many meetings have been called in order to schedule plans. If you are interested be sure to get your name on the list.

Basketball
The basketball boys have really been on the ball lately. They deserve all the credit you can give them. They played a swell game against Ft. Pierce last Tuesday night, with a thrilling score of 37-38 in our favor. If you've missed the games, plan to attend the next ones. You miss a great deal and the team needs your support, so be there and cheer for the Rams!

Annual Staff
Busily at work on the annuals, the staff held their last meeting Tuesday night. Every member there was really at work. All staff members not present, please come to the next meeting!

CINEMATIC CHATTER
By Malcolm Miller
Malcolm Freeman, popular screen actress, was made "The Copper Princess," official hostess of Copper Kings, Biscoe Douglas basketball team, while on location in this part of Arizona. This Alan Ladd is a "blood-chasing" gent. He kills two men in his latest picture, "Something to Live For," which brings his total cinema slayings to fourteen. Shucks, that's navvish! Some of the Westerns pokes ride through their pictures with guns blazing and kill as many as fourteen men in one little scene. Ladd ain't so tough! Comic Jerry Lewis, immediately. As yet the stars haven't been announced.

Junior
The Junior Class is sponsoring a play this year also. Their tryouts were held this week and they will begin rehearsals soon. This is the first time the Juniors have sponsored a play.

Assembly
There was an assembly at the end of last week. This time the lucky kids chosen to be in the play were Miss Martin. Since the try-outs were over the lucky kids chosen to be in it will begin work tomorrow.

Right Under Our Nose!

Sometimes, like we got word from the Governor, asking if we wanted to use the State Fire Inspection Team—a group of experts they send around to communities to inspect public buildings.

We sent a letter saying, "Okay! Give us the once-over!" They came down, all right—last week.

After the inspection, we got their report. Came out pretty well, all told. Town Hall and the School were O.K. Post Office just needed more handouts. In fact, everything got a clean bill of health, except—the Fire Station!

From where I sit, we volunteer firemen had just been told blameworthy keeping everyone else on the ball—and not realizing our own firehouse was not up to snuff. Like the man who worries so much about his neighbors—about whether they work hard—about whether they can really afford their new car, about their enjoying a temperate glass of beer—that he forgets to take a good critical look at himself now and then.

SOUTH BAY ADDS ITEMS TO CITY EQUIPMENT

The Town of South Bay has made notable improvements in the last three years and has just completed the purchase of a new fire truck and new dump truck to give the town complete new equipment.

Fire Chief Mead Willis and Chief of Police R. C. White made a survey of fire equipment being used in adjoining cities and decided that in order to get just what they felt most necessary for local conditions and to save money that it would be advisable to buy a long wheeled chassis and cab for the purpose and then build and equip the fire truck on the chassis.

This accordingly has been done. The new fire truck now complete has been built and equipped by local sheet metal workers and mechanics under the constant supervision of Fire Chief Willis at a saving of perhaps $3000 to the Town. It has a 400 gallon tank of water and pump with a capacity of 500 gal. per minute for use in case of grass or muck fires at some distance from a fire plug and all equipment necessary for any contingency that may arise.

Besides the new fire and dump trucks the town has purchased during the last three years, a new police car, two way police radio, a town tractor with mower attachment, increased the town lighting system three fold, built approximately a mile of paved streets, and installed a water system.

A bond issue was sold to finance the installation of the water system. Outside of that all improvements made have been financed on the "pay as you go" plan. The funds received from the cigarette excise tax have been a decisive factor in this ambitious program as they have paid for the street improvements and for the fire truck. The next improvement on the program is the building of a new Town Hall, now under construction by the Town Council.

Teenager Gets Appetite Back; Thanks Hadacol

HADACOL Supplies Vitamins B<sub>1</sub>, B<sub>6</sub>, Nicotin and Iron Which Her System Lacked.

According to Sara Loraine Beck, 13, of Boca Raton, Florida, when a person is only 15 years old and feels terrible, cannot sleep the way they should, it is mighty bad. That is the way Loraine says she used to feel. Out of that was, of course, before she started eating HADACOL. HADACOL helped her system overcome deficiencies in Vitamins B<sub>1</sub>, B<sub>6</sub>, Nicotin and Iron, which HADACOL contains.

Here is Loraine Beck's own statement: "I was run-down, sick and skinny. I weighed only 90 pounds before I used HADACOL. I would not eat because I had no appetite. Now I weigh 135 pounds and feel a lot better. I have been taking HADACOL 10 months and am still taking it. I am 15 years old. HADACOL has done for me lots of good."

While there Mrs. Lee held a brief conference with Samuel O. Cohen, State president of the Florida State Teachers' Association concerning the organization of District Eight of which Mrs. Lee is the president. The organization meeting will be in Stuart, Florida the second Saturday in February. Cohen, promised to be there to help in organizing the new District.

Mrs. Ora D. Lee and a group of men instructors in the Glades area, completed the Instructional First Aid Course at the White High School in Belle Glade on last Thursday evening. The instructor of the class, Mr. Dick Morris and the faithful class deserve much credit for the splendid work done. ### Consumers' Problems

By Mrs. Ora D. Lee
The consumer is a person who purchases goods and services for his own use. He is the one who pays for the goods and services. He is the one who is responsible for the quality of the goods and services he purchases. He is the one who is responsible for the safety of the goods and services he purchases. He is the one who is responsible for the value of the goods and services he purchases.

The best shopping begins at home. We plan our spending on the basis of what we want from life. We therefore save ahead for future plans. We should base our spending on what is important to us. We should not struggle to keep up with the Joneses. Set up goals for spending. You are now on the road to lasting satisfaction. Decide which items must go into your immediate planning and which must wait for long range planning. After carefully planning your shopping on paper at home, it is time to search for your goals in the shops. Know what you want before you go shopping. Then do not be swept out to sea when you go into a store and see the new fads glittering before your very eyes. You will never shop satisfactorily looking until you are weary, then forget something that you do not want simply because you are tired. How will you hate their pair of shoes, dress, hat or what you bought simply because you did not plan your shopping. Try reading the advertisements and using your telephone to eliminate wild goose chases. Then map out your route. Learn to judge values. Facts can help you recognize values when you see them. Get the facts about the articles you wish to purchase. Develop a buying guide. Source material may be secured from newspapers, magazines, commercial publications, advertisements, consumer services, your library, government agencies, professional associations, etc. Are you a skilled shopper? If your answer is yes to all of these questions, you are a skilled shopper. If no, you need to check up on good shopping usages then reread the questions.

1. Do you keep a file for buying information?
2. Do you keep two shopping lists—one for frequent, the other for occasional items?
3. Do you know the character of the store you go to the store?
4. Do you know the character of the store you go to the store?
5. Do you want and need in the article?
6. Do you avoid bargains

you don't really need? Do you decide the maximum to spend for each item?
7. Do you avoid crowded rush hours?
8. Do you look for labels and read them?
9. Do you compare values?
10. Do you watch for small savings?
11. Do you combine friendliness, courtesy, and good business, in shopping? Do you handle merchandise in the store carefully? Do you watch for small savings?

12. Do you shop around to get the best value for your money?
13. Do you watch sales.

sales checks, and count your money? Do you return goods only when they are defective or unsatisfactory through no fault of your own?
14. Do you know the various forms of credit?
15. Do you pay your bills promptly?
16. You are a skilled shopper if all your answers were "yes." It requires willingness and practice, but anyone can succeed.
